

Blessings on this Happy Day

A Mother's Day

THEODORE Roosevelt once said, "The successful mother, the mother who does her part in training her children who are to be the men and women of the next generation, is of greater use to the community, and occupies, if she would only realize it, a more honorable as well as a more important position than any man in it. The mother is the supreme asset of national life."

Many titles and phrases can define the word mother, yet none can fully capture the essence of the woman. We can conjure up visions of her smile or her frown; we can readily remember the security of her presence and the warmth of her touch. We can reward her with gifts, give her bouquets of flowers, relieve her from kitchen detail on her special day. But the most precious gift, the gift that lasts, is our love for her. We honor mother best by doing what she would have us do, being what she would have us be, saying what she would have us say. We honor mother best by never forgetting who we are — her beloved children.
