WE REMEMBER OUR LOVED ONES AT EASTER

March 31, 2002

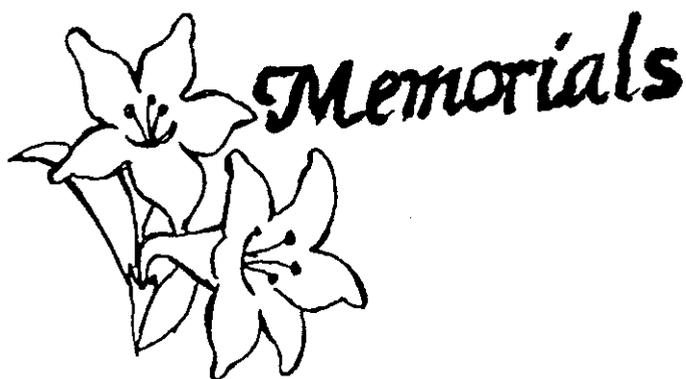

A TIME FOR ALLELUIAS

This is indeed the season of the year when our hopes really reach up to the very heavens. We participate in a feast of the body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. There is a joy in our hearts. We burst forth into song, singing, Christ the Lord is Risen Today. Alleluia!

Yes indeed, Jesus the Christ, The very Son of God, hung upon that cross on "Good Friday." He died for our sins and was indeed buried. It was then that a great victory took place. Christ rose from the dead. As Paul tells us "death is swallowed up in victory. O death where is thy victory, O death where is thy sting?"

This booklet is not only a tribute to those loved ones that have made that transition from life, but also a tribute of remembrance and love. They truly did influence our lives and we remember not only their love, for those left behind, but also we are given the remembrance that they also are sharing that new life with Jesus Christ. His victory over death has become their victory. His victory will burn in our hearts. We can be truly assured that "Blessed will be all who die in the Lord."

Today is Easter. Each of us with joyful hearts and memories of loved ones, who have gone before us, will step forward with Christ in our hearts and we in Christ.

"God couldn't be everywhere,
so he invented mothers,"
so the saying goes.

It's not entirely true, of course.
You CAN be everywhere, O God, and are.
Your Word assured us that there is no place—
as high as the sky or as deep as the sea—
where you are not present, O Lord God.
You are truly everywhere.

But you invented mothers anyway.

Thank you for caring so much that you provide this special way of letting us know what real love is,
and what it does, and what it can endure.

Even though you are always there, everywhere,
we can't always see you.

Mothers we can see; they make love visible,
and let us know how real it is ...
and, therefore, how real you are too.

Father's Day

Recently, I heard a young man say, "Any male can be a father, but not every father is a dad." This statement speaks to the responsibility that comes with fatherhood. The word fatherhood implies a kinship, a close connection, or relationship between the child and their father. So close of a relationship, that there is ownership between the father and child, that they claim each other. Being a father is easy, but being a dad takes commitment, it takes a willingness to wear the mantle that comes with fatherhood.

As we look at some of the woes of our society, we can see much of it stemming from the neglect of fatherhood. We see adolescents joining gangs, because many of them say the gang serves to function as a surrogate parent. We see huge amounts of our nation's resources going to force men to assume the responsibility of fatherhood, as the legal system tracks down "deadbeat dads."

The list of ills goes on and on. If you have been able to call your father, Dad, then you have been blessed. And so it is appropriate that we fill the pages of this book with the names of those Dads who have blessed many lives. This is just one of the ways we can tell others how proud, and thankful we are, that we had a Dad.

Jesus often talked about his Father as well, telling us many things about the Father in heaven. In Matthew 6:9, Jesus tells us that when we talk to the Father, we are to say "Our Father in heaven. . ." Jesus was telling us that we are to call the Heavenly Father, our Father. That we are to understand that there is a kinship, a very close connection, such that we can claim ownership between ourselves and God the Father.

The word for Father that Jesus used was Abba, it is an Aramaic term that conveys familial intimacy. Jesus was telling us that we are to know the Heavenly Father as our Heavenly Dad. On this Father's Day, it may be that your Dad is deceased; or that you find yourself in the role of caretaker for your Dad instead of the other way around; or perhaps you never knew a Dad, only a father. Whatever the case, Jesus' words reassure us that we have a Heavenly Dad who claims us, and cares for us. May we count all our Dads in our blessings on this day.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY (TOTENFEST)

November 24, 2002

After this I looked, and there was a great multitude that no one could count, from every nation, from all tribes and peoples and languages, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, robed in white, with palm branches in their hands. They cried out in a loud voice, saying,

"Salvation belongs to our God who is seated on the throne, and to the Lamb!" And all the angels stood around the throne and around the elders and the four living creatures, and they fell on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, singing,

*"Amen! Blessing and glory and wisdom
and thanksgiving and honor
and power and might be to our God forever and ever! Amen."*

Revelation 7:9-12

This scene from Revelation always gives me chills, what a beautiful and awe-filled future that awaits us. Whenever I think of heaven, I am bombarded by many feelings: excitement, anticipation, humility, fear, sadness. I get excited when I think that I will see Jesus face to face, and that I will finally see the fulfillment of all of God's promises that I only know by faith in this realm. To think that such a glorious place waits for me, brings me to tears and to my knees in gratitude.

As magnificent as heaven is, it also saddens me to think that I will leave people that I love, that the many blessings of this life will come to an end, and I become fearful that I will leave this life with unrealized dreams. As we celebrate Totenfest, I am sure that all of us will experience many of these feeling. Some of us will be glad that for those whom we loved, their sickness and sorrow has ended, and that they know a peace which surpasses our understanding. Some of us will be thankful for a God who is filled with love and mercy. And some of us will be sad that the people we loved are gone, and all that we know is the void that has been left in our life.

Times such as Totenfest can be very difficult, as we are challenged to believe that God's promises are true when we live in a place where we can only see their partial fulfillment. On this Memorial Sunday my prayer for all of us is that God will give us each a glimpse of the promises heaven. That we will each have a revelation which leaves us singing with joy:

and thanksgiving and honor
and power and might be to our God forever and ever! Amen."*

May the peace of God be upon you,

Rev. Cathy

The LORD is my shepherd,

I shall not be in want

He makes me lie down in green pastures,
he leads me beside quiet waters,
he restores my soul.

He guides me in paths of righteousness
for his name's sake.

Even though I walk
through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil,
for you are with me;
your rod and your staff,
they comfort me.

You prepare a table before me
in the presence of my enemies.

You anoint my head with oil;
my cup overflows.

Surely goodness and love will follow me
all the days of my life,
and I will dwell in the house of the LORD
forever.
