"That's My Heartstrings"

Who comes running thru the house with muddy, muddy shoes?

Who can say, "I need a dime" and know 'you can't refuse?

Who can tear the house apart just going up the stairs?

Who looks like an angel when he kneels to say his prayers?

That's my Heartstrings, That's my BOY.

That's my Heartstrings, That's my BOY.

Who can make you think the teachers wrong about his grades?

Who just can't resist a pull or two at sister's braids?

Who can wear your arches out at carnivals and fairs?

Who looks like an angel when he kneels to say his prayers?

That's my Heartstrings, That's my BOY.

That's my Heartstrings, That's my BOY.

Who can cry his heart out if his dog is feeling sick?

Who can take a watch apart but never make it tick?

Who can lift your soul on high when you're weighted down with cares?

Who looks like an angel when he kneels to say his prayers?

That's my Heartstrings, That's my BOY.

That's my Heartstrings,

That's my BOY.

As sung by Burl Ives. Version by Maurice J. Reis and Wiley Patterson.
