THE SERMON: "The Seven-Branched Candle-stick"

(A Poem-A Sermon-A Meditation-all in one. Keep program at hand, so as to follow sermon.)

1. "I watch the first still, steady flame and pray
That I may know serene, still peace, and ask

To leave outside the troubled world's loud way;
I dream, and slowly gain new poise;
The bustling seems remote, the noise.

2. I watch the second flame, and pray again,
This time for sympathy, -an open mind-
That I may understand mankind, --and then
It seems that I have sinned all sin
And know forgiveness from within.

3. I watch the third candle, and I ask
That petty anger in my heart be stilled,
That swerveless purpose hold me to the task-
Endless, yet not hopeless, where
A Partner shoulders double share.

4. I watch the fourth white taper, and implore
That living water lave my soul, and purge
The soul and stain away forevermore.
I gaze--and then, somehow, I seem
To feel the unfelt, cleansing stream.

5. I watch the fifth exalted flame, and pray
That I may mold a tempered, shapely soul,
That I may dream, and climb a little way,
That I'll not waste my gifts, but grow
Like the sainted Leader whom I know.

6. I watch the sixth unfaltering flame, and pray
For strength to pass the foes who wear smooth masks
And beckon those who linger on their way.
I have a Guide who understands
And steadies me with outstretched hands.

7. I watch the seventh candle burning there,
Consuming its own life to light a shrine
I live my whole desire in this prayer:
Give me some service I can do--
May it be done as unto You."

PRELUDE and PRAISE

CALL TO WORSHIP:

"Peace does not mean the end of all our striving
Joy does not mean the drying of our tears,
Peace is the power that comes to soul arriving
Up to the light where God appears.
Give me for light the sunshine of Thy sorrow
Give me for shelter the shadow of Thy cross
Give me to share the glory of tomorrow
And gone from my heart is the bitterness of loss."
